

SC 4 – Max/William

MAX

You can count on my discretion, Dr. Marston. I might not understand everything about what's going on here, but... It seems nice for the three of you.

WILLIAM

It is.

MAX

And perhaps if you all can forget the image of me as a pig on my hands and knees slopping down pie, I suppose I can forget... all of this.

WILLIAM

Mr. Gaines, I'm more than happy to avoid the pig incident in polite conversation: as much as I enjoyed watching it. But my family is not interested in being forgotten. We're interested in our privacy, of course, but not being treated like ghosts among the living.

MAX

Well. I suppose I won't have the privilege of treating you as ghosts.

WILLIAM

Why's that?

MAX

I'm going to consider your idea.
